HOLE BY HOLE DESCRIPTION

GOLF COURSE PLAN

1

HOLE 1, 380M, PAR 4

A gentle par 4 opening hole, with a generous fairway. A good drive right of the fairway bunkers guarding the left side of the fairway, should leave players with a mid to short iron into the green. A good warm-up hole to prepare for things to come.

2

HOLE 2, 395M, PAR 4

A tough par 4, with a very gentle dogleg right. A good tee shot is required to avoid the bunkers guarding the corner of the dogleg, and hopefully get over a soft ridge line across the fairway at the landing area. From here players need to play their approach shot to a slightly raised green, with swales surrounding the green, which will collect any misdirected approach shot. Par will always be a good score on this hole.

3

HOLE 3, 305M, PAR 4

A short par 4, which could be drivable to some players during favourable conditions. A series of small strategic bunkers protect this fairway and green. If you are not confident of hitting driver or 3 wood, a lay up to a good position in the fairway would be the wisest option. This hole should play easier than what it looks, and would offer a real birdie opportunity for better players. It can be a great confidence builder, but play within your abilities, or you could be in for a big score.

4

HOLE 4, 180M, PAR 3

A medium to long par 3 hole to a green positioned between two large ridges. With the wind behind you, this could be a tricky green to get it close to the pin – as long as your tee shot is straight, you should avoid any troubles off the tee.

5

HOLE 5, 470M, PAR 4

A short par 5 played into the prevailing wind, to a fairway covering some beautiful natural movement on the ground. The long hitters might reach in two, but any player getting on the green in three would have done well, as there are many subtle slopes which could direct your ball elsewhere if you land in the wrong area. Similarly, should you land in the correct area, the natural contours will guide your ball onto the green.

6

HOLE 6, 410M, PAR 4

This demanding par 4 is played from a raised tee to a generous fairway. From the fairway, players would need to play their approach shots to a green on a natural rise, with some bunkers protecting the left side. A four would always be a good score on this hole.

7

HOLE 7, 500M, PAR 5

A longer par 5, played with the prevailing wind. The tee shot is played to a bowl-like fairway, with a large bunker protecting the right side. Should you be able to avoid any trouble off the tee, players would have a great view down to the green, which is situated on the edge of a pond. A safer option would be to lay up slightly right, avoiding the water on the left, and bunkers guarding any aggressive play on the right. However, the longer players would be tempted to have a go at the green, and try and negotiate the pond on the left to get their balls on the green and have an eagle putt...

8

HOLE 8, 170M, PAR 3

This medium par 3 is played to a green with a pond right of the green, and some bunkers on the right. On a calm day, this could offer a good scoring opportunity to players, yet on a windy day, it is another story to try and negotiate the cross winds.

9

HOLE 9, 350M, PAR 4

A short par 4, with a large lake in play off the tee. A more daring tee shot across the left side of the lake, will provide a short pitch shot into the green, which is well protected by a bunker on the left, and the lake on the right. A definite birdie opportunity, but don't get over confident on this tricky little finishing hole...

10

HOLE 10, 420M, PAR 4

A fairly generous fairway provides some breathing room on an otherwise challenging hole. A long tee shot between bunkers on the left and right will leave players with an approach shot to a large green with a bunker short and some swales left and back off the green. As on a number of holes on the first nine, par on this hole is always a good score.

11

HOLE 11, 190M, PAR 3

A demanding longer par 3 hole, with large bunkers on the left and right of the green. Avoid these and you will find a long narrow green providing a variety of pin placements.

12

HOLE 12, 540M, PAR 5

A long par 5, playing slightly uphill to fairway which offers players three options on the second shot – a more aggressive option straight at the green, having to fly a large bunker guarding the green. A second option, on a line short and to the right of this large bunker, which would leave a challenging pitch over the bunker, or a safer option left of a small fairway bunker. The last option requires some accuracy to leave a player an easier pitch into the green, without having to carry the large bunker. A hole which promises players many variations and options to get the ball in the hole. And a lot of fun.

HOLE 13, 295M, PAR 4

An exciting short par 4, played slightly downhill to a green protected by a large pond short right. Longer players can take on the lake, and reach this very long green off the tee, leaving a possible eagle putt. The other options require a similarly accurate lay-up shot from the tee to a fairway left of the green, or a less risky tee shot to a fairway short right of the pond, requiring a tricky pitch across water. A definite birdie chance, but even easier to end up with a 5 or 6...

14

HOLE 14, 490M, PAR 5

A shorter par 5 with a dogleg to the left. Players need to negotiate a pond on the left at the corner of the dogleg, from where they will have a challenging shot to a smaller green, protected by some bunkers and swales around the green. Players might have to work hard for a par, which is a good score on this hole.

HOLE 15, 120M, PAR 3

A short par 3 played to an island green, across a wetland pond. This large target area offers some interesting pin placements which could be very tricky if your tee shot ends up on the wrong portion of the green. A very short, but very rewarding little hole, which provides a scoring opportunity for every player.

16

HOLE 16, 375M, PAR 4

A beautiful par 4 played from a century old agricultural area – don't think smooth, well tilled soil, rather lines of piled rocks and dense bush, which provides a vast contrast to the rest of the course. This medium length par 4 requires an accurate tee shot to an undulating fairway, from where players need to play to a small, uphill green surrounded by bunkers.

17

HOLE 17, 185M, PAR 3

The pen-ultimate hole on the course provides a dramatic medium to long par 3 with a long green wrapped along the edge of a large bunker on the left of the hole. This green almost has two greens in one, it would be beneficial to try and get your ball in the correct area, depending on where the pin is cut each day.

18

HOLE 18, 480M, PAR 5

A hole that is bound to give up many birdies, but if you let a shot get away, it could be an expensive hole. A big sand trap protects the right hand side on your drive, and a good drive that finds the fairway, will tempt you to have a go at a green protected by water on the right. Depending on how far you can carry the ball, each player will face a different challenge. Should you find your ball beached off the tee, the hole becomes really interesting, but even with a safe strategy, a good third shot could leave a realistic birdie putt. As the ball disappears into the hole, you think about a great day out, and can't wait for your early tee time the following day.
